WHAT IS THE YOUNG MUSLIMS FORUM?

The inaugural Young Muslims Forum (YMF) 2018 aims to be the Muslim youth's premier gathering on leadership that examines the most pressing issues impacting the world today. It will be a gathering of thought leaders and professionals to explore pertinent ideas, to build a consensus on perspectives, strategies and solutions in addressing contemporary challenges – hence breaking down the knowledge and action dichotomy in contemporary life. We believe that substantial progress in today's society can happen when youths from different sectors, who have the drive and the influence to make a difference are connected and work in synergy.

OBJECTIVES OF THE FORUM

- 1 RAISE AWARENESS
On our respective roles in the community, and the rich insights that we can derive from religion to address our modern challenges.
- 2 ENHANCE THINKING
To move away from short-sightedness and narrow mindedness to farsightedness and broad-mindedness in addressing our modern challenges.
- 3 IMPROVE ACTION
The conversations, observations and insights can help form useful inputs for various stakeholders in our society involved in the development of Muslim youth.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND THE YMF

YMF is open to a wide range of stakeholders from every walk of life from university students, the academic community, professionals, emerging leaders in the private and public sector, administrative diplomatic officers, foundations, media, representatives of national and local governments, parliamentarians, non-government organizations, community-based organizations, international agencies, and all interested individuals.

THEME FOR 2018: BEING PART OF THE SOLUTION IN THE 21ST CENTURY

In the 21st century, human civilization has made amazing progress materially, which is beyond the wildest imaginations of ancient times, yet we face such outstanding problems as widening wealth gaps, endless greed for materialistic satisfaction and luxury, unrestrained extreme individualism, ever-degrading ethics, and increasing tension between man and nature.

Resolution of such conundrums not only entails utilization of the current insights and discoveries by modern man, but also calls for recourse to the wisdom from the religious tradition. Only by doing so can we know the world, society and ourselves better, and prepare the ground for the emergence of a wiser generation and brighter future.
